STEPPING STONE MAIN STREET: GREENEVILLE PROJECT

Students in Dr. Taimi Olsen’s Block 7 Service-Learning class conducted surveys, researched local history and considered ideas of sustainable development for historic downtown Greeneville.

Working in conjunction with Main Street: Greeneville and Rediscover Greeneville, the redevelopment project introduced last fall, the class developed websites and produced data to link to the online map of historic Greeneville. You can check it out by going to the CCA’s website and clicking on the Community Mapping page. You can also explore other maps and community-based research projects conducted by Tusculum’s students on this page.

Bonner Leaders Program

During Spring Break, four TC Bonner Leaders went to Boston to join more than 900 students, administrators, and others at Northeastern University for the Impact National Student Conference on Service, Advocacy, and Social Action. Workshops discussed planning a career in nonprofits, how to mobilize voter registration drives, and how to solve social problems, such as homelessness, by identifying and concentrating on the core problem(s) of the issue. Students also discussed the roles of government versus nonprofits, as well as “hybrid” corporations, which concentrate equally on profit and social responsibility. Shareholders of these companies are concerned with how their business affects society and the environment.

PARIS IN SPRING FASHION SHOW

The Bonner Leaders hosted a fun and fabulous fashion show to benefit Habitat for Humanity on May 1st. Models wore becoming fashions on the runway in merchandise from Habitat’s ReStore. There was music and assorted entertainment in a lighthearted environment as various local community members modeled and auctioned items of attire to the audience. Masters of Ceremonies were the dynamic duo, Marilyn and Wes DuBrisk. This elegant event was held at the General Morgan Inn outside on the terrace. All proceeds went to the local Habitat for Humanity program.
